CAST IRON PAN NAAN

High-heat stovetop method with yogurt & water steam-anchor

Yield: 8 Large Naans
Prep & Cook: 2 hrs

INGREDIENTS

FLOUR & LEAVENERS

All-Purpose Flour	250 g (2 cups)
Bread Flour	250 g (2 cups)
Instant Dry Yeast	7 g (2¼ tsp)
Baking Powder	1 tsp
Fine Sea Salt	1½ tsp
Granulated Sugar	1 tsp

WET INGREDIENTS

Plain Greek Yogurt	150 g (room temp)
Warm Water	200 ml (105–110°F)
Warm Whole Milk	60 ml (¼ cup)
Melted Ghee (dough)	30 g (2 tbsp)

FINISHING GHEE

Ghee / Butter	45 g (3 tbsp)
Garlic & Cilantro	To taste

> The Water Trick: Wetting the dough face produces instant under-steam, blasting blister bubbles upward while gripping the hot cast-iron.

METHOD

1. Hydrate: Whisk flours, yeast, baking powder, salt, and sugar. In a jug, blend warm water, warm milk, room-temp yogurt, and 2 tbsp ghee. Pour wet into dry and mix into a shaggy mass.
2. Knead: Knead on a lightly floured surface for 8–10 min (or 6 min in a mixer) until smooth, elastic, and slightly tacky. Avoid over-flouring to keep moisture high.
3. Proof: Shape into a ball, place in a greased bowl, cover tightly, and proof in a warm area for 60–90 min until doubled.
4. Divide & Relax: Deflate gently. Divide into 8 equal portions (~90–95 g each) and roll into balls. Cover loosely on a tray for 15–20 min to relax gluten.
5. Preheat & Roll: Heat a dry 10–12" cast iron skillet over medium-high until lightly smoking. Roll one dough ball into an 8–9" round disk (⅛" / 3–4 mm thick).
6. Water & Sear: Brush top surface generously with water. Slap wet-side directly down into the dry, smoking skillet.
7. Blister & Flip: Cook 45–60 sec until huge blisters balloon across the surface. Flip and sear the reverse side for 45–60 sec until charred spots appear.
8. Brush & Wrap: Transfer immediately to a plate, coat with garlic ghee, and stack inside a clean kitchen towel to steam and maintain pliability.
